The journey of Phoebe, the deaconess of the church at Cenobrasa, who had been induced by various circumstances to visit Rome, gave him the best opportunity for this purpose, while, at the same time, he recommended her to the care of the Roman church. Paul himself had preached the gospel in Illyria; possibly he only mentioned this as the extreme limit at far at which he had reached in preaching the gospel. It is here taken for granted, that the 16th chapter belongs with the whole of the Epistle to the Romans, which in modern times has been disputed...
