Excerpt: . . . with water: in that case they are generally found sitting on the fallen reeds, waiting for the ebbing of the tide. Their food consists of various aquatic plants, . seeds, insects and small fish. The Coot swims remarkably well, and, when w. ounded, will dive like a Duck. It is known in Pennsylvania by the name of the Mud-hen. American Aroset. This species arrives on the coast of Cape May late in April; rears its young, and departs to the south early in 00tober. It almost constantly frequents the shallow pools in the salt marshes: wading about, often to the belly, in search of marine worms, snails, and various insects that abound among the soft muddy bottoms of the pools. It is a shy and noisy bird; and from its per-petual clamour it is called by the inhabitants of Cape May, the Law yer....
