Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Old Story: A Temperance Tale in Verse The Press is - almost universally - indefatigable in efforts to manifest the miseries incident to Intemperance: every Journal of the Kingdom is earnest in work for its diminution or suppression. The time is not yet when traffic in alcohol will be suspiciously and effectually restrained - or prohibited - by Law. Meanwhile, it is counselled that public opinion must pioneer the way to legislative enactment: and a duty is inculcated on every writer to contribute aid towards a consummation - that cannot fail to be mighty in its influence on human kind. Thus exhorted - and especially stimulated by a call in the Times of the 9th of August, 1872 - in this book, and the book that preceded it, The Trial of Sir Jasper, I have humbly striven to help on the work: trusting I may assist the many other writers, talkers, preachers, workers, to abate this nuisance and scandal, our national drunkenness. I have tried to make this book broader and more comprehensive in details than its predecessor: to treat, indeed, as far as my knowledge extends, every phase of the horrible vice, adding notes from the authorities by whom I am principally guided.
